Dedication
Tekoa 1988

The class of 1988 dedicates this yearbook to all of the people who share a commitment to excellence in education and who have been instrumental in the progress of Westfield State College.

Westfield State College was founded one hundred and fifty years ago as the nation's first public coeducational institution for teacher preparation. Horace Mann, secretary of the Board of Education, was instrumental in getting the state to appropriate funds to establish the State Normal School, opened in Barre, Massachusetts.

In 1844, the college moved from Barre to Westfield and Reverend Emerson Davis became the first headmaster at the new site. The college moved again in 1892 to the building which is now Westfield's city hall.

In 1932, the State Normal School became the Westfield State Teachers College as the result of a bill signed by Governor Joseph Ely. The College made its final move in 1956 to the present site on Western Avenue.

All Massachusetts State Teachers colleges were changed to State Colleges in 1960. This change led to the expansion of the curriculum giving students the opportunity to concentrate in areas other than teaching.

There have been many changes and developments at the College since its establishment in 1838. Starting with twenty students, the college now has an enrollment of three thousand. Its dedicated faculty members and administrators continue to contribute to the progress of public higher education at Westfield State College

What a year it has been! My first year as president, and my first graduating class. I am glad we are both making it...together.

Naturally, I am biased but I just felt you were a special group. You had a wonderful sense of yourselves as individuals, and as a class you are a community of friends. I know that when Devy and I went to the Valentine's dinner dance at Chez Josef with a number of you, we felt we were part of a family affair.

Your president Katie Thompsen has been tireless in your behalf. She and others have made us look and feel good about ourselves and each other.

I don't want you to leave.

Don't forget us. Stay in touch. Drop by. Recommend outstanding students. Be successful. Send us money. Mail a postcard. Call, even collect. I will accept the charges. I always did for my own kids.

"A Season to Remember" was the theme of the Westfield football team in 1987-88. It proved to be just that as the Fighting Owls posted their best record ever of 6-3.

Making it a season to remember were All-Conference senior stalwarts such as All-American tight end Jeff Stackpole, and a pair of talented do everything athletes in Bob Erhardt and Carlos Canino.

Other senior standouts who finished their careers with school records were quarterback/defensive back Eric Ryder and halfback Joe Champigney. Westfield's quality seniors were supported by many talented underclassmen.

An opportunistic defense that held most opponents in check made the Owls strong contenders for the New England Conference title with a 5-1 record after six games. Westfield's only loss in the first six weeks of the season was a closely contested 17-7 decision to New England power Plymouth State.

The Owls finished their finest season on an upnote with a dominating victory over Fitchburg.

1st golf game

It was a year of firsts for the Westfield State golfers, who achieved high rankings on both the regional and national level in fielding the best team in the school's history.

Here's a look at some of the many firsts the Owls linksmen recorded:

— achieved its highest national ranking (12th)
— rated the second best Division III school in New England behind rival Salem, a team it outshot in several tournaments
— competed in the ECAC Tournament, finishing 9th in a field dominated by Division I and II schools
— qualified three golfers for the NCAA Championship

Another impressive first for the Owls was attained by Dean Godek, who earned All-American honors at the national championships. The senior placed 15th with a three round total of 230. Senior Pat Rahilly, an Academic All-American golfer for two straight years, and junior Kevin Piecuch fired rounds of 238 and 239, respectively, to place 53rd and 58th.

It was a season which brought a satisfying smile to the face of Diane Lussier, the head coach of the Westfield State field hockey team.

The second-year coach saw her team post a competitive 8-6-1 record while challenging for the MASCAC Championship. The Lady Owls finished a close third in the conference, losing only to Salem and Bridgewater by 1-0 scores.

Coach Lussier is already looking ahead to next season, when Westfield returns all but four girls. Seniors on this year's squad were All-Conference pick Pam Clark, who led the team with six goals, goalie Mara Lichoulas, and twin sisters Lisa and Lynn Krawczyk, who were the team co-captains.

Among the underclassmen starters were freshmen Sharon Underwood (four goals, one assist), sophomore Amy Willey (four goals), sophomore Laura Mahoney (one goal, three assists), and MaryAnn Pelligrinelli (three assists). Lichoulas recorded 99 saves in 13 games while allowing 11 goals. Back-up goalie Sue O'Malley, a freshman, made 21 saves and allowed four goals.

The Westfield men's soccer team completed another outstanding season with a 13-6 record and a trip to the ECAC playoffs. The Owls lost in the opening round of the playoffs to ECAC champ Williams, but Westfield's veteran coach Jim Fonte was already looking forward to another banner season in 1988 as all but one player returns. The lone graduate, however, will be difficult to replace. Senior Joe Conry capped his stellar career at Westfield by playing in the New England All-Star Game for the second consecutive year. The All-Conference standout was the Owls' leading scorer with five goals and 11 assists.

Conry was surrounded by an enthusiastic and talented group of underclassmen, including All-Conference picks Mark Gonsalves and Daryl Zanardi. The highlight of their season was a seven-game winning streak, including a 3-2 victory over archrival North Adams State.

Defense was the name of the game for the Westfield women's soccer squad, which came on strong to finish with a 6-5-3 record under veteran coach Bob Harrington. Westfield started out season slowly, going 1-3-1 before recording a 4-0-2 mark over the next six games. The Lady Owls banked five straight opponents during one stretch, capped by a 1-0 victory over conference champion North Adams State.

Spearheading the defense was senior Trish Crowley, an All-Conference First Team defender, and junior defender Lori Harpin, an All-Conference honorable mention selection. Junior Aimee Ross, who scored nine of the team's 20 goals, was Westfield's other All Conference First Team member. Also playing well throughout the season were Deb Trainor and freshman goalie Deb Bousquet, who allowed only 7 goals in 12 games. The Lady Owl booters lost only one player to graduation, their MVP Crowley, so they were looking forward to a winning season in 1988 with another tight defense and a bit more offensive spark.

The Westfield hockey team experience the bitter taste of defeat too man times as it finished the season with 1-19-1 record. Unlike the 1-19 season c two years ago, Westfield was com petitive in most of its games durin 1987-88, but the Owls didn't have th depth and scoring power to come ou on top.

Don Palmer completed his fine fou year career at Westfield by bein named to the All-Conference team He finished with a team-high 35 point followed by Garry Garland (2 points), Billy Ferreira (23), Steve Gosli (21), Kevin Craig (16), and John Krir (11).

State Championship, placed 11th in the All New England Championships, and finished a strong third in the New England Division III Regionals.

Frontrunners all season long for new head coach Rick Doiron were Ken Pliska, junior Steve Gaebel, senior Greg Callahan and junior Steve Fleming. They swept the top four spots in the Mass. State finals. Placing sixth through eighth for Westfield in the state championships were senior Tom Stewart, sophomore Chris Kiatos and freshman Lance Campbell.

The Westfield women's volleyball team captured Westfield's only Mass. State regular season championship, posting a 6-0 league record under first year coaches Gwen Keough and Paula Conway. The Lady Owl spikers clinched the title in dramatic fashion by outhitting the second and third place teams — Bridgewater and Salem — on the final two days of the season. The weary but determined Westfield spikers outlasted Bridgewater, and then handled Salem the following day.

Senior captain Renee Gawlinski and junior captain Rose Duerr guided the underclassmen dominated squad to their 11-13 overall record. The Lady Owls relied primarily on teamwork, as freshman Lynne Farrington was the only player selected to the All-Conference team.

Team members: Laurel Ainslie, Felicia Byers, Tessa Chenaille, Yvette Davis, Wendy Kelley, Kelly LaChance, Patricia Price, Kristina Jackivciz Kathryn Martin, Lisa Weinberg, Deborah Bousquet, Patricia Censullo, Belinda Lucas, and Melissa Plante.

The women's basketball team won more games than any other Westfield State team during the 1987-88 school year, as the Lady Owls posted an 18-7 mark in qualifying for the ECAC playoffs. The Lady Owls also captured the season-opening Regis Tournament and compiled the second best record in school history as they won their first five games and 11 of the last 12 during the regular season.

Yvette Davis led the Lady Owls through their outstanding season. The smooth shooting guard/forward set three school scoring records, including most points in a single season (510). She outdueled Catie Cleary, the nation's leading scorer, in an 89-79 victory over Pine Manor College. Davis' heroics weren't overlooked by the coaches as she was an All-Conference First Team selection and second team ECAC pick.

Davis was backed up by a supporting cast that knew the meaning of teamwork. Point guard Wendy Kelley set school records for most assists in a game and season. Junior center Tessa Chenaille averaged 10.6 points and a team-high 8.7 rebounds.

It took the Westfield men's basketball team while to get on track in 1987-88, but once th Owls did they proved to be a formidable op ponent. Westfields' young club (reserv Kevin Curry was the only senior) took its lump early against a rugged pre-leagu schedule, losing 10 of its first 11 games. Th Owls' young talent then began to mesh du ing conference play, as they won six of the final 10 games and finished 6-6 in th league.

The highlight of the season was a thrilling 84 83 victory over conference champion Nort Adams State. Shining individually for th Owls was sophomore shooting sensation Jir Bruno. Three-point shots were Bruno's spec alty, as he made 79 of them to finish third i the nation in that category. Bruno wa named All-Conference along with junior fo ward Bryan Gilmer, who averaged 17 point and 8 rebounds. Sophomore center Ric Jones, also, showed signs of his awesom potential during the season.

t was a record smashing season for the Westfield women's swimming team, which set or reset more than 20 school records on its way to a 4-3 dual meet mark.

Leading the record-setting trend for sixth-year coach Dave Laing was a trio of underclassmen. Establishing six records each were juniors Mary FitzGerald, sophomore Korri LaMagdelaine and freshman diver Lori Vincent. Vincent had the most successful season individually with her fourth and eighth place showings in the New England Championships, which led the Lady Owls to a 19th place finish. Vincent also performed well in the ECAC Championships, as she placed 16th in the one meter dive and 18th on the three meter board.

Other records were set by junior Kristen Sikora and freshman Kim Weaver. Sophomores Robyn Houlihan, Tracy Cooney and Ann Verville were members of record setting relay teams as well.

e 1988 Westfield women's softball season might ve been the most gratifying for veteran coach ce O'Donnell, as she molded together an underclassmen laden squad into a winning unit which me within a run of defending its ECAC Championship.

expected, the young club got off to a slow start, pping a double-header to AIC, but it quickly ned things around with five straight early season tories. The Lady Owls finished the season at 17-10, ving tied for second in the conference with an 8-4 ecord. They were awarded a post-season play-berth for their fine play against the top flight mpetition.

e Lady Owls didn't give up their ECAC crown hout a fight. After dropping the opening playoff me to top-seeded Southeastern Massachusetts, estfield knocked off conference rival Worcester te, 5-4, and handled Southeastern Mass., 7-2, e second time around to advance to the championship game. There, the Lady Owls met a familiar ponent in Bridgewater State, and were eliminated a tough-to-take 4-3 setback.

Frustration. That summed up the Westfield baseball team's 1988 season from start to finish, even though it charted a more than respectable 17-15 record.

Forced to play all but six of their 32 games on the road because their new ball field wasn't playable, the Owls were unable to develop any consistency in their play. They started the season on an upnote, posting their first winning record (5-3) down South. The one-run woes hit the Owls back in New England, however, as they dropped six straight games, including five by a total of six runs. To the Owls' credit, though, they did regroup to rip off nine straight victories to up their record to 14-9. The springboard to the winning skein was a 2-1 victory at Eastern Connecticut.

In contention for an ECAC playoff spot and the conference title, the Owls suffered several frustrating losses which knocked them from the postseason picture. They split key double headers with Salem, Bridgewater and North Adams, and were dealt non-league losses by Albany State and UMass/Boston.

Receiving deserved postseason individual honors were Westfield's "Thunder and Lightning" slugging duo of Greg Roy and Dan Cosenzi. Westfield's All-Conference performers were Roy and Rich Locke (honorable mention pick).

Team members: Bernard D'Agostina, Andrew Fronczak, Paul Murphy, Kevin O'Brien, Kenneth Pliska, Thamas Stewart, Anthany Brice, Jeff Cahill, Gregg Callahan, Steven Fleming, Stephen Gaebel, Victor Gilmer, Scott Little, Peter Mole, Curtis Alstan, Jahn Desfarge, James Far Christapher Kiatas, Miles Woodhause, Lance Campbell, Kevin Cass, Mark Curry, and Brian McDanald.

Westfield State continued its run into national pr minence during the winter indoor track and fie season, as it finished 10th overall at the nation indoor championships held at Smith College Northampton.

Six Owls earned All-American honors, led by Vi tor Gilmer's third place in the 55 meter high hu dles and Lance Campbell's fourth place in th 800 meter run. The 1600 meter relay team of Jo Desforge, Miles Woodhouse, Peter Mole an Paul Murphy received All-American medals f placing sixth. Woodhouse just missed gaining A American status, again, as he finished ninth in th triple jump.

Another highlight of the indoor season was Wes field's sixth place showing in the highly compe tive New England Division III Championships.

The Westfield men's track and field team maintained its dynasty by claiming its 12th conference championship in the past 14 years. The running Owls nosed out ever improving Fitchburg State to give 20-year coach Gerry Gravel another first place trophy for his cluttered office.

National qualifiers Andy Fronczak (hammer throw) and Miles Woodhouse (400 meter run) were two of the many talented thinclads on this year's team. Conference champions were Kevin O'Brien (10,000), Joe Winter (javelin), Steve Gaebel (3,000 steeplechase), Fronczak (shot put), Paul Murphy (800), and Woodhouse (intermediate hurdles).

The running Owls also received strong efforts from long jumper Rodney Smith and sprinter Pete Mole in the New England championships, where they placed a surprising second.

To the Class of 1988:

When you leave the campus of Westfield State C lege as a graduate, you will be taking many thin with you. However, you will also be leaving a part yourself behind. For most of us, college was the f time on our own. Where you see yourself today has a to do with your experiences and decisions as member of the Class of 1988 at Westfield State C lege. With both successes and failures, you finc made it to graduation.

Back in September of 1984 we weren't sure wh being a college student was all about. Most of learned to fit in right away, while others needed a lit more time to get the hang of it. None of us was prepar to handle the big challenges on our own. You learn that you could depend on your roommates and neig bors for support. This is how our friendships began.

For four years our friendships were tried and teste While some friendships drifted apart, others becar stronger. After graduation they will be tested agc Some of us may be going home, while others may l starting out on their own. You may be continuing w your education, starting a career, or starting a fam Staying in touch with friends will be a challenge.

Graduation should not mean an end to our frier ships. We will all have to put some effort into staying touch. When you start the new chapter of your life, clude the people who shared the good times and t bad times with you at Westfield State. Continue share your new experiences.

Time Of My Life

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

nt: Nancy J. Henderson, Secretary; Lisa B. Bazarian, Vice President; Kathleen A. Thompsen, President; Lisa J. Oakes, Senate Representative Back: Thomas E. Stewart, asurer; Michael R. Ahearn, Senate Representative; Thomas H. Fredrick Jr., Senate Representative; Cathleen M. LaCroix, Senate Representative

Let us introduce ourselves . . .

The Class of 1988

(I've Had) The Time Of My Life

Now I've had the time of my life
No I never felt like this before
Yes I swear it's the truth
And I owe it all to you
Cause I've had the time of my life
And I owe it all to you
I've been waiting for so long
Now I've finally found someone
To stand by me
We saw the writing on the wall
As we felt this magical
Fantasy
Now with passion in our eyes
There's no way we could disguise it
Secretly
So we take each other's hand
Cause we seem to understand
The urgency just remember
You're the one thing
I can't get enough of
So I'll tell you something
This could be love because

CHORUS:
I've had the time of my life
No I never felt this way before
Yes I swear it's the truth
And I owe it all to you
With my body and soul
I want you more than you'll ever know
So we'll just let it go
Don't be afraid to lose control
Yes I know what's on your mind
When you say, "Stay with me tonight."
Just remember
You're the one thing
I can't get enough of
So I'll tell you something
This could be love because
CHORUS:
"Cause I had the time of my life
And I've searched through every open door
Till I've found the truth
and I owe it all to you

CHORUS

I really did not know what I was getting myself into when I agreed to be co-editor of the yearbook. Thanks to a few dedicated individuals this book became a reality.

Cheryl . . . Thank you very much for EVERYTHING. I know you had a lot to do and did not enjoy all of those long hours in the computer room. This yearbook would be speechless without you. I also thank you for your undying support throughout the summer. Without you this book would still not be done!

Paul . . . I really appreciate all of the time and effort you put into this book. I know that your time was hard to come by. TEKOA would be lost without you.

Renee . . . I thank you from the bottom of my heart for always being there for me. The pictures are gorgeous! You were always ready to help me in any way that you possibly could. You really cared about the progress (or lack of) of the book.

Kirsten . . . Thank you for all of the beautiful artwork. You always managed to turn out the greatest things in the shortest of time. I also thank you for putting up with me when the going got rough. You were always there with a friendly word when I was about to give up. I will miss you next semester, but I am looking forward to your return in the spring.

Mickey . . . Thank you for everything. I really appreciate all of the time you put into writing the sports copy. I don't know what I would have done without you!

John . . . What can I say? You were always there for me, even during your vacation we kept in touch with the progress of things. I always knew that I could count on you. I know that I was often hard to get in touch with but sooner or later we always seemed to touch base.

Bob . . . Thank you for everything. You were very patient with my numerous questions and problems. I really appreciate your never ending dedication to TEKOA.

Dave . . . Thank you for all of the spectacular layouts you were able to create. I also thank you for your never ending support. I hope that next year TEKOA becomes your life just like it was this year.

Lisa . . . Thank you for your support and typing skills. You are the best friend a person could ask for. Without you to keep my head on straight, I don't know if anything would have ever gotten done!

I owe a great big thank you to my family. They put up with TEKOA things all over the house. For most of the summer they were without a dining room table and often without a living room floor. I owe a very special thanks to my sister Barbara. She was usually very willing to help me in any way she possibly could.

To the rest of the staff . . . Many thanks for a job well done. I appreciate all of the Wednesday evenings that you gave up to "work" on the yearbook. I wish the seniors (Liz, Cheryl, Renee, Gina and Marge) the best of luck for the future.

Well, I can't say that I didn't know what I was getting myself into this year when I consented to be the editor, again. But I was determined not to do it alone. I needed a good staff behind me to help. As you can see, the staff was the best one a person could ask for.

Linda Backner, my co-editor, was more than just a co-editor, she was a friend. I asked Linda to help because she was organized, motivated, creative, and supportive. She was always there in a crisis (and there were plenty of them) with a helpful solution. She gave 100% to this book and it shows.

Cheryl Nelson, copy editor, and her fingers were imperative to this book. She wrote, edited, compiled, organized and typed all the copy in this book. Without her, we would have a lot of space in the book. Even with all of her own work, she managed to get it all done. I don't know how.

Renee Gawlinski, photo editor, was such an asset to this book. If it wasn't for her, there would be 248 blank pages. Without her talent, her time, and her staff, the book wouldn't have been complete. She brought her pictures, and ideas to every meeting and tried to help in any aspect of the book that needed it. She was at all the events snapping photos left and right of anything that moved, and even some things that didn't move.

Paul Campbell, business editor, was such a help when it came to raising money. He organized the advertising campaign and followed through with it. He was head of security and he still managed to give some of his time to the yearbook. That is dedication.

Kirsten Karplus, art editor, is an incredibly talented person. She has a creative mind and her artwork is beautiful, as you can see. She joined the staff late in the year but definitely shined. She was always there in a crisis. I don't know what we would have done without her.

Two other people, the advisors, should be given thanks. John Morytko and Bob Mailloux put up with all of our questions and problems and solved any major crises that we encountered.

As you can see, I surrounded myself with talented people who I knew would help out and be as dedicated as I. I think I chose well. I want to thank all of you. You are the best.

God gave you only 25 years
For that we have shed so many tears
We will remember you as sensitive and kind
Reaching out to the troubled was on your mind
Your dreams were to write and to teach
How hard you worked for those goals to reach
A smile you always had to lend
Yes, not only were you a brother, but truly a friend
